A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-8,13-15, 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ahlgren (6,852,126).

With respect to claims 1, 14, 19, Ahlgren discloses a method for stabilization of vertebrae adjacent an intervertebral space, the steps including inserting an elongate primary segment (20A) between the vertebrae and inserting an elongate secondary segment (20B) between the vertebrae, with the secondary segment crossing the primary segment; as set forth in column 1, lines 55-57, column 2, lines 1-6; the distal end of the segments are spaced from each other and the proximal ends of the segments are spaced from each other; as best seen in the FIGS.; making a first incision at a first implantation site, inserting the first elongate segment, making a second incision at a location spaced from the first incision; and inserting the second elongate segment through the second incision and along a second pathway to the implantation site; as set forth in column 2, lines 16-35.

With respect to claims 2-8, 13, 15, Ahlgren discloses all the limitations, as set forth in column 1, lines 55-58, column 2, lines 1-33; column 4, lines 1-67, column 5, lines 1-55; and as best seen in FIGS. 1-21.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9-12, 16-18, 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
